

Bulletin for Endings

Business

Chalice Lighting

Spirit of life and love,
We have come together
In search of understanding,
In search of community.
We have come in search of hope and healing.
This has been a place
Not only of searching, but of discovery . . .
A place not only of learning, but of wisdom . . .
A place not only of meeting, but of connection . . .
We honor this circle of love, ever expanding, ever growing.
adapted, Sue Ayer

Sharing of Joys and Concerns

Shared Readings

We shall not cease from exploration
And the end of all our exploring
Will be to arrive at where we started
And know the place for the first time.
T. S. Eliot

Endings are a catharsis. They give meaning to what comes before, and change us from the way we were.
Steven Winn

Learning to live is learning to let go. Sogyal Rinpoche

People tend to be uncomfortable with endings, because every ending is a little death. That's why in many languages, the word for "goodbye" means "see you again." Whenever an experience comes to an end—a gathering of friends, a vacation, your children leaving home—you die a little death. Eckhart Tolle

Parting is such sweet sorrow. William Shakespeare, Romeo and Juliet

To live in this world

you must be able to do three things:
to love what is mortal;
to hold it

against your bones knowing your own life depends on it;
and, when the time comes to let it go,
to let it go.

Mary Oliver

The things that matter most in our lives are not fantastic or grand. They are the moments when we touch one another, when we are there in the most attentive or caring way. This simple and profound intimacy is the love that we all long for. Jack Kornfield

Deep Sharing and Deep Listening

Round 1

Share a phrase or sentence from the readings.

Round 2

Share stories, feelings, and experiences of endings in response to the preparation about endings in your life.

Round 3

Take a moment for everyone to say one thing that they will remember from participating in the group.

Closing Activity

Closing Words

Here we finalize the venture we began together in the fall

We have opened our hearts by Listening and sharing deeply from our hearts.

We have been patient with each other

And cheered one another.

We have celebrated and endured our transitions.

We have known joy in our exploring,

Energy in our quest,

Humor for our differences,

And compassion in our sufferings,

Always with a common caring that has held us

In our journey together.

The Covenant

I commit myself:

- to come to meetings when I possibly can, knowing that my presence is important to the group
- to let the leader know if I will be absent or need to quit
- to share with the leader the responsibility for good group process by watching how much time I take to speak and noticing what is going on for others
- to do the reading and thinking about the topic ahead of time
- to not gossip about what is shared in the group, and tell only my own story to others
- to honor the safety of the group by listening to what others share with an open heart
- to refrain from cross-talk, judging, or giving advice
- to share as deeply as I can when it is my turn.
